DESCRIPTION

Terra Andina wines are inspired by the vibrancy of South America. At its core, Terra Andina is free-spirited, exuding the best qualities of South America: relentlessly energetic, inherently open-minded, and undeniably social. Terra Andina's Chief Winemaker, Eduardo Alemparte, has traveled throughout South America, experiencing first-hand how each regions wine style is interwoven with the fabric of its culture. He has drawn inspiration from the diversity of valleys, varieties and people in the aim to create the best wines that fully reflect the South American vibe.
