More About This Producer

The grapes are from Horse Heaven Hills, of the Columbia Valley in Washington State by physician and winemaker, Joe views winemaking as an art but draws on his science background and applies it to winemaking science. Joe is a self-taught winemaker but continues his education through classes at Walla Walla Institute for Enology & Viticulture and UC Davis. He makes every effort to preserve the varietal flavors in his wine.

Dr. Gunselman believes that the Columbia Valley has the most unique soil composition and provides the vines the best place in the world to grow grapes. Joe is assisted in the winery by his wife, Rebecca.
