VINOS DE ARGANZA

Vinos de Arganza is a family business bought in 1997 by wine industry veteran Víctor Robla and his wife Ángeles Varela, whose grandmother Sara Álvarez de Toledo was part of an important noble family and vineyard owners in Bierzo since the XV century.

ABOUT GODELLO & BIERZO

Godello is a grape variety native of Spain and rarely found outside of El Bierzo and Galicia in the Northwestern part of the country. Like Albariño, Godello typically shows very attractive tropical and citrus aromas, but showcases greater minerality and more lively acidity. Depending on the winemaking method, Godello can be creamy and dense with the ability to improve with ageing. Bierzo's soil includes a mixture of fine elements, quartz and slate. The vineyards are planted mainly on humid, dark soil that is slightly acidic and low in carbonates.
