ABOUT BODEGAS EIDOSELA

Located about 30 miles inland from the coast, along the north bank of the Miño River in the region of Arbo, just a couple of miles from the border with Portugal. Bodegas Eidosela was founded in 2003 by a group of local farmers with a total of 45 hectares (111 Acres) of vineyards that they harvest manually using 40 Lb boxes to ensure the grapes arrive to the winery in perfect condition.

ABOUT RIAS BAIXAS

Rías Baixas' coastline is comprised of inlets reminiscent of Norway's fjords and boasts some of Spain's most stunning beaches and an endless supply of fresh seafood. Rías Baixas is also the birthplace of Albariño, Spain's most famous white variety. In Rías Baixas, this grape shares the same nutrient-poor but mineral-rich soils and moderate climate as other renowned white wine producing regions.
